Rather than theory lectures if faculty show's some site in campus and explain those technical things on site then that will be way more helpful than lectures.

Nothing

No suggestion

Should do architectural competitions as more as possible, helps in overall growth of knowledge and softwares

If indian syllabus and german syllabus will be compared then there will be 90% difference in both of them whole syllabus structure is designed according to interest of students and our syllabus seems boring due to some irrelevant topics which are not used now a days, if we focuse on practical knowledge and classes out of colllege will be more interesting and helpful to students.

Nothing
