Jury Panel for KMATM   Students working on models

Event Description:

KMATM was an event of model making inter- architectural college competition held by our college, Sinhgad college of architecture, Pune under the mentoring and guidance of Ar. Girish Doshi. Model making in architecture is essential because they highlight the features and utility of a planned structure in a way that a composite sketch or computer-generated image can never do, hence our college had taken a step to raise a stage for the students to display their talents.

In this event we had students participating from different colleges for learning, experiencing, hardworking, experimenting their own skills and competing to win the prize.

First three winners received their winning amounts and trophies and all other, and participation certificates were given to all other participants.
